MESSAGE FROM CHANCELLOR

I am extremely happy that Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering of our university is going to organize a one day National Conference on "Advancements and Future Trends in VLSI Design (NCVD '14) on 26th September 2014.

This conference is indeed of great relevance in the present day context because numerous developments took place in the field of communication engineering for the past years.

The theme of the conference is to bring together the National Community of researchers and practitioners to discuss the latest advancements and future directions in the areas of VLSI Design and also in tune with the latest technological development taking place in the field of Communication Engineering.

I hope that this Conference will provide opportunities for students, researchers and academicians to develop their knowledge in this field.

I wish this Conference all success.
